NEGOTIATE FOR C. A. A. AT DEPAUW

NEL ROSCOE TURNER WAS GREENCASTLE TO CON-FER WITH DR. WILDMAN

GOVERNMENT MUST APPROVE

Program Will Depend On Acceptance of Federal Government After Contract Signed negotiations for a contract for to operate a Civilian Aeronautical Training School at DePauw University, as well as others, are seeking the right to train for army purposes, it was announced here Friday, when Col.

Turner and aides visited Greencastle, the city airport and De-Pauw University, where they conferred with Dr. Wildman.

contract, when it is made, will be approved by the Federal Government and to date several have been refused, and there is no assurance that DePauw will be accepted, even though a contract is made with the company to train young men. The whole program depends on the acceptance of the federal government after a contract is made by the University with the training company and it is possible that training may be started at the end of the second semester, though all of these details remain unworked out.

recent months, the C. A. A. has been active over the country and colleges and universities have signed contracts, which will mean thousands of young men will be aviation training while in college at the expense of the Federal Government.

while in Greencastle Col. Turner with the members of the city club and a Rotary Club delegation headed by Walter Ballard, Leslie Jones, Joseph Bamberger, Dr.
An Killinger and Ernest Collier. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the local airport and the agreements necessary to be made to place the field in condition to be used by the DePauw C. A. A. class.
In recent months, some sod has been removed from the field which is to be replaced before the spring is done. It is estimated that the field can be placed in usable condition for less than $100. The possibility of arranging a W. F. A. program to do this work was discussed.
Col. Turner said that he felt this could be arranged. The federal government will pay for the cost of the field for flight training which should defray the expense of its upkeep.

According to Colonel Turner and Mrs. Gamsjager, sales manager of Turner school and who accompanied Col. Turner to Greencastle, local airport should derive additional revenue from its use for commercial purposes. The need for alternate commercial airports was mentioned, and according to these authorities, it would be the intermediate field between Indianapolis and Terre Haute.

ROMANIA SIGNS PACT BINDING IT TO AXIS

BERLIN, Nov. 23 (UP)—Rumanian officials signed a protocol binding their country to the German-Japanese alliance today.

The protocol was signed by foreign minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop of Germany; Gen. Ion Antonescu, prime minister of Rumania; Gino Squasanti, Italian ambassador in Tokyo; and Ambassador Sato of Japan.

RESTAURANT BOMBED

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23 (UP)—A black powder time bomb exploded in a terrific detonation in the rear of a downtown restaurant of the Buffet Corporation here today, killing kitchen equipment and injury to one employee.

The explosion occurred at 1:45 p. m., less than 24 hours after another bomb explosion had partially destroyed the entrance of one of the restaurant chain's outlets in Philadelphia.

Employees of the restaurant were at work at the time, but only one escaped injury. Louis Barnes, 24, a student manager, suffered head cuts from fragments of window glass that were shattered by the discharge.

FIVE CHURCHES TO MARK THANKS DAY NEXT WEEK

LINCOLNVILLE, Ind., Nov. 24—"Seceding" momentarily from the rest of Indiana, five Wabash County churches will celebrate Thanksgiving Day here next Thursday.

They announced a union service for 10 A. M. at the Lincolnville United Brethren Church. The announcement said they were "adhering to the tradition dating back to the great American from whom Lincolnville received its name."

Other churches to participate are the Lincolnville and Mount Hope Methodist, Dora Christian and New Holland Friends.

By proclamation of Governor Townsend, this state observed Thanksgiving yesterday.

County, Township Officers To Meet

STATE CONVENTION TO BE HELD DECEMBER 4-6 IN INDIANAPOLIS

Putnam county officials and trustees of townships of the county are interested in the sixth annual convention of such officers from over the state, to be held December 4-6 at the Claypool hotel, Indianapolis.
It is announced the keynote of the convention will be coordination of their functions and activities. It will be attended by 3,000 local government officers.

Separate meetings for all of the eleven organizations which go to make up the county and township officials group will be held on Wednesday afternoon, Thursday morning and afternoon, and again on Friday morning, with Thursday evening, which is the second day of the convention, being devoted to a joint session for a discussion of mutual problems on local government. Several well known speakers will be presented on that evening. It will be the plan again this year to present entertainment programs on both Wednesday and Thursday nights for the officials, their wives and guests.

The handling of poor relief and the administration of school affairs will be among the principal topics of discussion. According to the officials of the county and township group, there is a definite trend away from centralization of duties and an increasing interest in local government. Localized government administration results in reduced cost, absence of red tape and a direct saving to the tax-payers. The County and Township System provides the best opportunity for careful scrutiny on the part of the taxpayers of local governmental costs.

FORMER STUDENT DIES

Mrs. Elizabeth Maybrey Proctor, former DePauw student, 70 years old, died Thursday in her home near Indianapolis.

Mrs. Proctor was born in Columbus, Aug. 15, 1870, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Benn May-brey, pioneer Indiana residents.

She had lived in Indianapolis 54 years. She was married to the Rev.
Walter G. Proctor in 1894. The Rev.
Mr. Proctor was pastor of Mayer Chapel and Neighborhood House 10 years, until his retirement two months ago.

ALCANEY FARMER HAS BEEN A TEACHER, TRUSTEE, AND "SQUIRE"

Alcaney Farmer's 44 years of teaching in Putnam county rural schools did not sour the disposition of that gentleman. At least, he was very cordial and pleasant to a Daily Banner man, who interviewed him at his farm home, Poplar Row, 4 miles west of Cloverdale, recently. Interspered in those many years of teaching were four years as trustee of Cloverdale township, and, too Mr.
Farmer was that township's last justice of the peace—quite a "marrying squire," too, inasmuch as he tied the nuptial knot for 40 couples, more or less, he said.

His teaching may have been strenuous at times, for he mentioned—with considerable pride, however—Homer C. Morrison, Albert E. Williams, Theodore Crawley, Roy E.
Jones and Joe Kelley of Mount Vernon, as being among his pupils. What he had to say about them was interesting.

Concerning Mr. Morrison—present Putnam county clerk, former teacher in Jefferson township, former trustee of Cloverdale township, and former member of Putnam county finance boards—he said: "Homer was a shy agement school.

Church Makes Plea For Old Books

MAPLE HEIGHTS CONGREGA-TION URGES AID IN LIBRARY FORMATION

A plea is being made to all Greencastle people to aid the Maple Heights Methodist church in forming a library. Any books, not being used or ready to be discarded, will be greatly appreciated.

As the church is in need of funds in order to get activity progressing in the life of its community, the congregation is making a desperate effort to raise money.

One of the ways being used is that of collecting labels from Crisco, Camay soap, and Ivory Flakes. The manufacturers of these products pay churches liberally for these wrappers and if citizens of the community will save these wrappers or allow members of the Maple Heights church to call for them they will be helping materially in this worthy cause.

Anyone interested in aiding this cause please call Mrs. James Causey at 594-M and leave their names so that either the books or the wrappers may be called for.

little boy. He used to stand before the school twisting his coat in his hands, unable to tell what he undoubtedly knew well enough about the lessons of the day. One day he was to recite a piece and he said he had forgotten it. One of the girls spoke up and said, "Teacher, he ain't forgotten it, he just never learned it in the first place." Homer was especially good in history," said Mr.
Farmer.

Concerning Roy E. Jones, former Putnam county teacher, former county school superintendent and now principal of the schools at New Winchester, Hendricks county, Mr.
Farmer had this to say:

"Roy was a lazy little fellow the first year he was in school. He wouldn't try, but finally he got interested and toward the last he used to walk five miles to school every morning, and walk home in the evening, just to get an education. He went to the Putnamville school and finished at Cloverdale."

Albert E. Williams, present prosecutor of Putnam county, was complimenting Mr. Farmer on his story.

ville was injured early last night when Guy Eggers headed his automobile off the Ladoga road and ran into a utility pole to avoid hitting a freight train that was crossing the road.

Hook suffered a fractured right arm and several lacerations about the face. He was brought to Culver hospital where he remained overnight. Eggers was reported uninjured.

The car, which was approaching

Minority Group Hears Schriker

STATE DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE FOR SESSION OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—Governor-Elect Henry F. Schriker, only Democratic state ticket winner in the Nov. 5 general election, told the Democratic minorities of the Indiana General Assembly Friday he would "take the issue to the people" if the Republicans "try to make a joke out of the Governor's office."

Schriker, now lieutenant governor, said he meant by "making a joke of the Governor's office" any moves by the G. O. P. assembly majorities to take away by legislative enactments "the authority and prerogatives to which the office is rightfully entitled."

The Governor-elect added, however, that he did not expect such an eventuality and believed "we will be able to reach some workable arrangement."

The nineteen Democratic senators and thirty-six representatives heard Schriker, Governor Townsend and State Chairman Fred F. Bays in closed meeting and then organized in separate caucuses for the 1941 legislative session.

The Senate elections were devoid of contests, Senator Roger H. Phillips of New Albany being named minority floor leader by acclamation on motion of Senator Charles H.
Bedwell of Sullivan, who had been mentioned as a candidate.

Senator Mark Sunderland of Yorktown was elected caucus chairman and Senator Thomas A. Hendricks of Indianapolis caucus secretary.

Representative Winfield K. Denton of Evansville won the minority floor leader post in the House caucus without opposition and Representative Howard T. Batman of Terre Haute was elected caucus chairman in a contest with Representative Jack O'Grady, also of Terre Haute. The House did not elect a caucus secretary.

Governor-elect Schriker told the joint meeting of the legislators he believed it was "up to them and to him to put good government above politics."

"This is a testing time for both sides—a time to test our political sanity," Schriker asserted.

He urged the Democratic minorities to "go along with the majority in amending the state reorganization bill" but to try to "salvage anything worthwhile."

"The Democrats should not be obstructionists," Schriker admonished.
"We should co-operate with the Republicans on anything that will make government more workable for the people of Indiana."

The Governor-elect said he "regretted" that feature of the reorganization act which prevents elected officials from choosing their department personnel.

"I believe that the other elected officials have a public responsibility just the same as the Governor has," Schriker declared.

DIVORCE GRANTED Native Of Limesdale Dies Of Injuries

WILLIAM H. STEEG WAS WELL KNOWN IN THIS CITY AND COUNTY

William H. Steeg, born at Lime-dale 60 years ago, son of Henry Steeg former mayor of Terre Haute, died instantly when struck by an automobile in Terre Haute at 11 o'clock last night. He sustained a fracture of the skull, fractures of both legs and the fracture of an arm.

Mr. Steeg, who was interested financially in the fertilizer business, recently purchased a farm in Madison township, Putnam county, on which to conduct experiments in the use of fertilizer on crops of various kinds, particularly forage crops. He was president of the Acme Coal and Lime company at Terre Haute.

Mr. Steeg was a cousin of the late William Steeg, whose widow and daughter, Mrs. Emmett Green, reside just south of Greencastle.

TURKEY UNDER Martial Law

TURKS ON ALERT FEARING
BULGARIA MAY ATTACK
GREEK FORCES

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov. 23 (UP)— Turks were on the alert today for signs that Bulgaria, encouraged or aided by the Axis powers, intended to attack Greece and turn the southeast corner of Europe into a war that would involve Turkey immediately.

All of European Turkey, and a corner of Asiatic Turkey, including the Istanbul district as far as Izmet, were put under martial law last night. The Asiatic zone involved extends back from the Bosphorus, the outlet of the Black sea and presumably the first goal of any German troops striking through Bulgaria.

The commander of the Gendarmerie, Ali Riza, was charged with the enforcement of martial law, which was ordered after a cabinet meeting.

TOM WHITE TELLS ABOUT LIFE IN EASTERN TENNESSEE MOUNTAINS

Tom White, born in a log cabin among the rocks on the side of Clinch Mountain, where "moonshine" making was a common occupation, in eastern Tennessee but now a resident of east Commercial Place, was somewhat of a disappointment to the interviewer from The Daily Banner office.

The newspaper man was confident he would hear an exemplification of Tennessee mountaineer lingo—said to be the purest form of English language found in America—but Mr.
White's language was as Hoosier-like as yours is, or mine. Occasionally, a "right smaht" would crop out in his conversation, such a "right smaht moonshinin' there now," but that was all.

Asked why, he said:
"Well, you see I came away from there when I was a youngster and I never talked it very much."

However, from the back yard of his Commercial Place home came the melodious barking of two tan and black coon hounds, and he showed the writing man three muzzle-loading rifles, none of them factory made, with which he hunts squirrels

7 DIVISIONS ARE ROUTED AT KORITZA

GREEKS ALSO SEIZE ITALIAN SUPPLIES FOR TWO FULL DIVISIONS

GREAT VICTORY FOR GREEKS

Fighting On Northern Front Moving Toward Yugoslav Border As Italians Fall Back

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 23.—(UP)— Greek troops routed almost seven Italian divisions (105,000 men) in capturing the Koritza sector and seized enough guns, ammunition and vehicles to equip two divisions, reports from the front said today.

The fighting on this northern front was moving toward the Yugoslav border. A large section of the Italian force routed from its Koritza base had moved to Pogradec, 25 miles north on Lake Ochrida, which forms a section of the Albanian-Jugoslav border, and the Greeks were driving that direction in pursuit.

(Ozren Popovitch, United Press staff correspondent at Belgrade, went yesterday to Sveti Naum, a border town between Lakes Ochrida and Prespa, and watched British planes bomb Pogradec. He said that the raiders returned four times to dump bombs on Pogradec and nearby towns and that no Italian fighter planes ever appeared. He said he saw Al-banians shipping at Italian troops retreating up the Koritza-Pogradec road.)

While the Greek northern forces were mopping up around Koritza, the southern army was pushing into Albania and threatening to cut off the Italians from their coastal supply base, Porto Edda. As they approached the Argirocastron plains, however, the Greeks were advancing more cautiously, to prevent falling into traps or meeting massed formations of Italian mechanized units, which had been of little value in the mountainous country to the east.

The victory of Koritza, from where the Italians had launched their drive for Salonika, eastern Greek port, was growing in scope as new reports of captures came from that area. It was reported that the Italians had attempted to destroy the immense stores of gasoline and munitions assembled there before retreating, but the Greeks arrived in time to seize most of them.

England Rocked By Air Attacks

NAZI AERIAL BLITZKRIEG
HURLED AT ENGLISH
MIDLANDS

LONDON, Nov. 23.—(UP)—The German aerial blitzkrieg struck again with full fury all last night at a town in the western Midlands which recently had been subjected to a fierce pounding.

(Nazi informants in Berlin said the attack was on Birmingham, the great steel and munitions center.
They said the "entire city quarters as well as the factory areas were destroyed and gutted," that the fires could be seen on the French coast, 175 miles away, and that dive bombing tactics had been used for the first time there.)

It was believed that the Germans had used more planes in last night's raid than they ever had used in that area before. They converged on the town from all directions at 10-minute intervals for several hours, despite a terrific anti-aircraft barrage.

Damage was considerable and casualties were feared to have been heavy, although there was no indication that the town was "concentrated" —a reference to the raid on Coventry that has come to mean annihilation—because the town attacked last night is much larger than Coventry and would take more time to destroy.

MAYOR W. D. JAMES ISSUES STATEMENT

Mayor W. D. James issued today from his office the following statement, endorsing the 1940 Christmas Seal Sale of the Putnam County Tuberculosis Association, which will open here on Monday, Nov. 25:

"With a sense of fulfilling official duty as Mayor and with Whole-hearted commendation as a private citizen, I hereby endorse the purchase of Christmas Seals as a method of raising funds for the great national fight against tuberculosis.

"The approach of the holiday season once again has brought to the citizens of Greencastle the simple, direct appeal of the campaign. Each tiny seal is a contribution toward a cause of the utmost worthiness. To protect homes—all our homes—from the tragedies caused by the ravages of tuberculosis is the unwavering objective of the annual Christmas Seal campaign. We pride ourselves that ours is a community of homes. Shall we not join, then, in this unqualifiedly deserving cause?

"I hope that all our citizens will buy as many seals as possible this year. Let every greeting card and gift package that goes forth from Greencastle carry these small decorations, attesting that our community is alive to its responsibilities and is

Bible Class Held
Outstanding Meeting

One of the outstanding meetings of the year for the Keystone Bible class of Goble Memorial church, was held Friday afternoon with Mrs. R. J. Gillespie.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Ben Riley. Mrs. Riley prepared a paper showing the place of music in the world. Music was classified as being the fourth need of man. She compared it to sculpture and painting in art but showed that it was not stationary and could be enjoyed by greater numbers and at distances throughout the world. Miss Evelyn Crump sang "Love," "O for a Day in June," "A Little China Figure," and "God Bless America." She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Crump. Then Mrs. Riley conducted a song fest of well known hymns in which the members participated and to which was added short histories respectively.

Mrs. W. A. Shelly conducted the devotions, reading from the 47th Psalm. Used for illustration, the Ten Lepers and stated that one of the greatest conundrums of life is why people persist in forgetting to be thankful and to show appreciation to God and man. She closed by reading the poem entitled "Thank God."

There was a large attendance and after refreshments, the class sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," to Mrs. Carlyle Keck, a member who is moving to Lansing, Michigan, their former home.

The December meeting will be held at the church and will be the annual family dinner meeting. The program will be announced later.

Why Not Go to Church Tomorrow?

Perhaps you have planned tomorrow to be a busy day of pleasure which is your right and need after a week of care and work. But it would add to the benefit of your day of rest to devote an hour of it to hearing a helpful message of cheer and hope from a church pulpit. If you have not attended church service recently, why not make tomorrow a more satisfactory Sunday — by going to church?

COME TO CHURCH

PEACE

by

Rev. Thomas J. McGrath

On every side we hear voices raised, deploring the waning influence of Christianity in the lives of men and nations. We fail to realize, evidently, that such condition obtains our national scales as well as in international affairs, precisely, because we have permitted ourselves to come to a condition wherein the influence of Christ's teaching and example fails to exercise proper force in our individual actions and lives.

As a fact, we must admit there is antagonism between Christ and ourselves as viewed by our actions and attitudes. Ideally, there should be no conflict; in the planned harmony of an order, established by God himself, there would be none. In our desire to exercise liberty, we have abused freedom, our gift from God, and as a result the habit of selfishness reigns in our life. Man has exalted himself without regard to God; he has made himself, his opinion, and his will the determining factors or norm of living with growing disregard for God, whose Will finds expression thru revealed commandment and law.

A nation, in the scope of its influence, will be noble, just and charitable in that degree in which these virtues or qualities find expression in the lives of the individuals who make up the nation. These virtues, in individuals, must be rooted deeply in internal dispositions or habit—otherwise, expression is life without soul, action without heart. Christian international order can be properly built by nations that are Christian and such nations are made of men who know the Will of God and keep it.

The task, to which we must set ourselves—if we truly wish a right order of things—is to begin this ordering of our individual lives. We are not the determining norm of our lives—God's Will is. We do not fulfill the whole lay thru the serving of God, as we determine to serve Him. We are pleasing in His Sight in so far as we do His Will. "What Wilt Thou have me do" was the proper question and disposition manifested by the great Apostle in the instant of his conversation. That generous effort of will must be present in each of us. The expressing of that will in our own lives—as we endeavor to live as God would have us live—is the basis of the only true and lasting Peace that can reign in the hearts of men and homes and nations, in the world as well. Peace is the blessing of God on those who are well-disposed. Peace can be found—not in the mere service of God, but in the service of God that is in agreement with His Will.

OBITUARY

Wiley Oliver Foster, son of Hucaton and Lucinda (Wright) Foster was born September 27, 1858 near Mt. Meridian, and passed away at his home south of Mt. Meridian November 8, 1940, at the age of 82 years, 1 month and 11 days. He had been in declining health for the last ten years, but became seriously ill August 10, 1940 and continued to decline until his death.

He grew to manhood in the vicinity of his birth, and acquiring only a common school education, chose farming as his life occupation. On December 31, 1879 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary E. Bowman, daughter of Alfred and Sarah Bowman. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. L. D. Mark who resides in Greencastle.

He was converted and united with the Methodist church at Mt. Meridian almost 61 years ago, and remained a faithful adherent of that faith until his death. The writer of these few lines well remembers what a pleasure and spiritual uplift it was to hear him pray and testify of his hope, in the old Methodist church at Mt. Meridian. And we are today keenly reminded that another of that older generation of this community has joined that innumerable throng that has come down through the ages.

He was an outstanding example of right living and loyalty both to his church and to his family, frequently quoting passages of scripture, particularly the 23rd Psalm—even in his last hours of life.

His entire married life—almost 61 years—has been spent in this one home—loved by all his neighbors who knew him to be one who would help them in time of need. They also knew him to be strictly devoted to his home and family. Beautiful devotion was shown by the dear wife, though handicapped by more years than he, who sat, by day and by night near his bedside to administer to his wants, as his life gradually ebbed away.

He is survived and will be greatly missed by the daughter and five grandchildren, Glenn, Wayne, Wiley, Elmore and Madelyn who each did all possible to alleviate his suffering. Five great grandchildren survive him who can not fully realize their loss.

Burial will be held at the Greencastle cemetery, Monday, November 24, at 2 o'clock.

The tree-tops faintly rustle beneath the breeze's flight, A soft and soothing sound, yet it whispers of the night; I hear the wood-thrush piping one mellow descant more, And scent the flowers that blow when the heat of day is o'er.

Behold the portals open, and o'er the threshold, now, There steps a weary one with a pale and furrowed brow; His count of years is full, his allotted task is wrought; He passes to his rest from a place that needs him not.

In sadness then I ponder how quickly fleets the hour Of human strength and action, man's courage and his power. I muse while still the wood-thrush sings down the golden day, And as I look and listen the sadness wears away.

Again the hinges turn, and a youth, departing, throws A look of longing backward, and sorrowfully goes; A blooming maid, unbinding the roses from her hair, Moves mournfully away from amidst the young and fair.

Oh glory of our race that so suddenly decays! Oh crimson flush of morning that darkness as we gaze! Oh breath of summer blossoms that on the restless air Scatters a moment's sweetness, and flies we know not where!

I grieve for life's bright promise, just shown and then withdrawn; But still the sun shines round me; the evening birds sing on, And I again am soothed, and, beside the ancient gate, In the soft evening sunlight, I calmly stand and wait.

Once more the gates are opened; an infant group go out, The sweet smile quenched forever, and stilled the sprightly shout, Oh frail, frail tree of life that upon the greensward strows, Its fair young buds unopened, with every wind that blows!

So come from every region, so enter, side by side, The strong and faint of spirit, the meek and men of pride, Steps earth's great and mighty, between those pillars gray, And prints of little feet mark the dust along the way.

And some approach the threshold whose looks are blank with fear, And some whose temples brighten with joy in drawing near. As if they saw dear faces, and caught the gracious eye Of Him, the Sinless Teacher, who came for us to die.

I mark the joy, the terror; yet these, within my heart, Can neither make the dread nor the longing to depart; And in the sunshine streaming on quiet wood and lea, I stand and calmly wait till the hinges turn for me.

Funeral services, held at the home Nov. 10, conducted by Rev. Wilbur Day of Delphi, Ind. Burial at New Providence cemetery.

VONCASTLE

A group of eleven outstanding character actors, headed by stars Norma Shearer and Robert Taylor, combines to bring to the screen one of the most thrilling best-sellers of the past year, Ethel Vance's "Escape". The picture opens Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Voncastle Theatre.

Miss Shearer is seen as the Countess von Treck, who finds herself involved in the desperate attempt of American artist Mark Preysing to rescue his mother, exactress Emmy Ritter, from death in a concentration camp. Taylor enacts young Preysing, with Nazimova, star of silent films, returning to the screen for the first time in fifteen years, as Emmy, European star Conrad Veidt appears as the General, lover of the Countess, and ultimate menace of Emmy's safety.

Granada

In almost every great star's career there is one great outstanding role that seems made to order for his talents and his personality.

For Tyrone Power this part has come in "The Mark of Zorro," the title role of which is undoubtedly the most famous and colorful the screen has ever known.

Zorro, the masked bandit of Old California's most exciting days, whose sword mark—a jagged "Z"—struck terror to every heart but one, was the role which gave the late Douglas Fairbanks his greatest fame.

Now, in "The Mark of Zorro," which comes to the Granada Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday it marks for Tyrone Power a triumph greater than those he scored in the memorable "Jesse James," "In Old Chicago" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

At the peak of "The Mark of Zorro," which features lovely Linda Darnell opposite him, Power recalled his first unsuccessful attempt to "crash" the movies.

Chateau

Just as a drowning man clings to a straw, or an entombed miner claws at a sliver of light, so the world clutched James Hilton's novel, "Lost Horizon," to its bosom when it discovered the book in 1934. To Ronald Colman, who is starring in Frank Capra's Columbia roadshow production of "Lost Horizon," now in a popular priced run at the Chateau Theatre, the reason is clear.

Then, as now, the world was stunned, bewildered. Twenty years after sacrificing the flower of its youth in an attempt to banish war forever, most nations were arming or preparing to do so once again. War was in the offing three years ago; today diplomats admit that it is nearly upon us.

Newspapers, as always, were full of woe. One murder after another disgraced the pages. Mostly, love or money was the cause.
